About: Ways to help deal with homelessness

- Introduction

Nowadays there are many homeless people who face important problems everyday and are unable to afford basic necessities. That's the reason why we all need to take action and provide help to such needy families.

- Provision of permanent residence and job

We firstly have to provide them a safe home in their town of residence and a reliable life style. To be more accurate, we should build shelters and hire them to work for the community. Also we need to sear their physical and natural health with engaging doctors and psychologists.

- Support for their new beginning

In parallel to these, we have to support them throughout their new beginning. It is a good idea to create lists for donations containing money, clothing and other basic stuff. What's more we need to make appeal for volunteers and organise poverty prevention programmes to decrease the rates of homelessness.

- Conclusion

To sum up there are many ways to deal with this serious problem. If we all try for the best result and do not easily give up, we will all coexist harmoniously.
